

Privacy Policy of the HRCG

Specified Non-profit Organization

Hokkaido Research Center of Geology

The Hokkaido Research Center for Geology (hereinafter referred to as "our research center"), a specified non-profit organization, recognizes the importance of protecting personal information and has formulated a policy regarding the handling of the personal information.

1. Management of personal information

Our research center manages the personal information properly.

2. Purpose of acquisition and use of personal information

Our research center acquires the personal information by appropriate and fair means. The purpose of collecting the personal information is to notify the holding of the general meeting of our research center, guide events such as various seminars and patrols, create a membership list, send various publications, and send membership fee requests.

3. Use of personal information

Our research center will use the personal information when necessary for the operation of the research center within the scope of the purpose of use indicated at the time of acquisition. If the personal information is used beyond the scope of the purpose of use, consent shall be obtained in advance.

4. Provision of personal information to a third party

Our research center will not provide the personal information to a third party without the prior consent of the person, except as required by law.

5. Security management of personal information

Our research center shall ensure the accuracy of the personal information and take appropriate safety measures against risks such as unauthorized access to the personal information, loss and leakage of the personal information.

6. Compliance with laws and regulations

Our research center complies with laws and regulations regarding the protection of the personal information, and implements efforts based on this policy.